

CANADIANS ASKED TO JOIN THE MEN OF OUR ARMY WEEK

Ottawa.—Canadians were called upon by Gen. J. L. Ralston, minister of national defence, to honor the men and women of the Dominion's war service Army week, June 27 to July 5, as to continue their interest in the activities in the months to follow.

Dr. Ralston spoke over a Canadian Broadcasting Corporation radio network, in a special program headed "Army Week." Ralston said that the program was a dramatic picture of the co-operation between Canada and Britain in producing improved equipment.

"Taking part in the program were professional actors now on active service who dramatized the actual machinery for the production of equipment."

Cal Ralston pictured the more than 150,000 Canadian soldiers abroad in uniform, and the Canadian troops in the United Kingdom. Others maintain constant vigil at military bases in England, in Newfoundland, Labrador, in the Caribbean and along the Pacific.

"The army so far has had to contend to be a drab job without glamour or excitement," he said. "The war is a grim and a deadly one. But the fighting service men and women are the glory of the decisive battle in this war must be fought and won on the land."

He said that Canada's army were those who were devoted. Those who were fighting in the front lines were ready to "drive McNaughton's dagger home" were deserving of praise.

(Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian army, said that the Canadian army was "dagger pointed at the heart of Germany").

He said that Canada's army was as proud as a man on the line of the Canadian Army, Col. Ralston said.

"The endurance and patience and industry and tenacity of these soldiers and women have made them worthy of every act of interest and admiration you can show them."

"They represent manhood and womanhood in its glory, they represent patriotism at its peak," Col. Ralston said.

"You have known yourselves by honoring them."
